

OAHU MILITARY HEAD COMING

General to Command Uncle Sam's Soldiers Will Arrive Today.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

Brig-Gen. Montgomery M. Macomb, U.S.A., arrives this morning on the transport Sherman to assume command of the Military District of Hawaii, the first general officer to be placed in charge of all military posts on this island, the first movement toward creating what is expected to be one of the most important military departments under the American flag. He is accompanied by his aide-de-camp, Second Lieut. F. M. Andrews, Eighth Cavalry. Although there is only a regiment of cavalry, a battalion of infantry, two companies of coast artillery, a battery of field artillery and a company of engineers on duty in the various posts scattered over the island of Oahu, it is the nucleus of a brigade command.

Col. Walter S. Schuyler, U.S.A., who was formerly in command of the Fifth Cavalry at Leflore, and the ranking officer in the islands, was in temporary command of the district. He met General Macomb in San Francisco and had a conference with that officer, and is now also a brigadier-general and assigned to duty at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Full Complement Soon.

General Macomb was recently appointed to his present rank and detailed to command the district of Hawaii, a subordinate division of the department of California, recently created by the secretary of war. When the new disposition of troops ordered by the war department is completed he will command an entire regiment of cavalry, one of infantry, a battalion of field artillery and a battalion of coast artillery, with the proportion of the engineer, signal and hospital corps which belong to that number of troops.

General Macomb has been in command of the Sixth Field Artillery for the last two years until his recent promotion. Previous to that time he served in various artillery regiments and on special duty. In 1891 to 1892 he was in charge of the army party of the International Railway Commission, which explored five of the Central American States with a view of mapping out the possible establishment of railways in the territory.

Promotion Record.

He entered the military academy at West Point from Michigan, September 1, 1870, and became a second lieutenant of the Fourth Artillery, June 17, 1874; first lieutenant, September 5, 1879; captain, Seventh Artillery, March 8, 1898; major, artillery corps, November 4, 1901; lieutenant-colonel, March 26, 1906; colonel, April 5, 1907; assigned to field artillery, June, 1907, and was recently a member of the general staff under Gen. J. Franklin Bell. He is a graduate of the artillery school, 1886.

General Macomb will find a rather large military establishment here, with several army posts and forts including Schofield Barracks; Leflore, brigade post; Fort Shafter, infantry post; Fort De Russy, fortification; Fort Roger, mortar fort; while Forts Kamehameha (Pearl Harbor) and Armstrong (Honolulu harbor entrance) await troops to man the guns there. DR. KINCAID, LATE PASTOR OF CENTRAL UNION CHURCH, DIES

News was received in this city yesterday of the death of Rev. Dr. William Morris Kincaid, former pastor of Central Union Church, who passed away at Charlotte, North Carolina, on the 2nd of January, 1911. At the time of his death he was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of that city. Doctor Kincaid was born in Utica, New York, about sixty years ago. His father was George Kincaid, a Scotsman from Inverness; his mother was a French Huguenot. His boyhood was passed in Utica, where he was prepared for college in the public schools of the city. After four years collegiate training at Williams College in Massachusetts, under the great educator, Mark Hopkins, he graduated with honors in 1872.

His theological course he obtained at the Baptist Seminary in Rochester, New York, and his first pastorate was at Cortland, New York, from 1875 to 1878. He then went to Rondout, in the same state, and served a pastorate there until 1881, when he accepted a call to the First Baptist Church of San Francisco. In 1890 he resigned that position and left the Baptist church at the same time.

In that year he became a Presbyterian and received a call from Minneapolis, where he remained until coming to Honolulu in September, 1898. He was installed as pastor of Central Union Church on the tenth of December of that year, and served here until June, 1900, when he accepted a call from the First Presbyterian Church of Charlotte, a congregation having a membership of nearly 1000.

During his residence in Honolulu, Doctor Kincaid became a prominent personage, and his departure was regretted by a large circle of friends. He took a great interest in Hawaiian affairs and his address at the Mook conference in 1905, was but one of the notable occasions upon which he presented local subjects for the consideration of the Nation. He was credited also with doubling the membership of Central Union Church during his pastorate. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Williams College in 1904.

He was a warm friend of Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago, and served as university preacher for that institution last spring.

California, of Bright's disease. He was sixty-six years old and had been connected with many of the principal hotels of the Pacific Coast and the East. He assisted Warren Leland at the opening of the old Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

John W. Ellis, who played a large part in engineering the national finances during the Civil War, died in New York in his ninety-fourth year, after an illness of several years. He started his business career in Cincinnati at the age of eighteen, and by the time the Civil War began was regarded as one of the leading financiers of the middle West.

Harry K. Thaw, who killed Stanford White, the New York architect, was discharged from bankruptcy by Judge Charles P. Orr in the United States district court at Pittsburgh. Attorneys declared Thaw's recognized creditors would receive twenty per cent of their accounts. According to the bankruptcy petition, Thaw's liabilities were $453,140, with assets of $128,012.

Work on what is to be the largest office building in Chicago, and the second largest in the United States, was begun at Fifth avenue and Jackson boulevard. The building will be two hundred feet square and twenty-one stories high. Double shifts of men will require thirteen months in which to run the walls up to the limit of 260 feet now permitted by the city ordinances.

There were 14,829,200 head of livestock shipped into Chicago during the year 1910, according to the annual report of the Union Stock Yards Company, just issued. The report shows an increase of 141,000 cattle, 90,000 calves, 792,000 sheep, and a decrease of 617,000 hogs and 82,000 horses as compared with the previous year. It took 256,700 cars to haul the livestock, which is valued at $550,000,000.

A check for $67,966 from the Rockefeller Foundation was received by Treasurer I. D. Smith of the University of Vermont, representing the first installment of a gift of $100,000 made to the university on condition that an additional $400,000 be raised elsewhere. The $400,000 has been subscribed and $217,000 has been collected. The half-million dollars is to be added to the endowment fund of the university.

Charles H. Webster, an actor of the old school, who at one time supported Booth and played with Barrett's famed St. Louis stock company, died in New York of heart failure. He was sixty-two years old, and was born at Hartford, Connecticut.

Preventing two men sent by her husband from carrying off her small child in Tacoma, Mrs. Victoria C. Herold shot and seriously wounded one of the men, Harry Williams, a commercial traveler, living in Seattle. He is now in a hospital and will probably die.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette and a number of other Los Angeles club women are inclined to oppose the movement for a State university in southern California, on the ground that it is not exactly what is needed. They favor a State woman's college south of the Tehachas.

One man dead and two women and a child dangerously injured is the result of the latest Black Hand outrage, which took place in Paterson, New Jersey. An explosion, followed by a fire, wrecked a double tenement on Scoley street. The bomb was exploded under a stairway.

The message sent by retiring Governor Gillett to the members of the thirty-ninth legislature of California showed a balance of $2,000,000 in the State treasury above all obligations, which sum, the message says, is double that left by any previous administration.

The Japanese government plans to, by unanimous decision, the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the federal government could not maintain the so-called "Panama Canal libel suit" against the Press Publishing Company of New York in the federal courts of New York.

An unidentified man was instantly killed and another fatally injured in New York when an elevator car in an apartment house on West One Hundred and Twelfth street, in which both men were riding, ascended rapidly to the top of the shaft, snapped its cables and dropped eight stories into the cellar.

Southern Pacific overland train No. 1 was held up by two masked bandits at Reese, Utah. A negro porter was killed and two persons injured. Over a hundred passengers on the train were relieved of their valuables. The express car was not tampered with. The bandits held the train for more than an hour.

READY TO ACT ON SCHOOL LAWS

Commissioners Passing on Regulations Prepared by Department.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

The commissioners of public instruction are well into their second week of work in the regular January session of the board, the revised laws and the revised rules and regulations being the subject of discussions yesterday.

Many new sections have been introduced into the laws and others have been revised. The rules and regulations of the board which control the internal administration of the department have also been carefully revised and extended. As yet no final action has been taken on either the laws or what regulations have been discussed and the commissioners start work on the latter again at half-past eight this morning.

A number of sections from the revised regulations have been stricken out so far by the commissioners as being duplicate of sections in the laws and consequently unnecessary. Superintendent Pope has devoted several months to the preparation and revision of both these documents and if finally adopted by the board they will be presented to the legislature and to the Governor for final approval.

Revised Sections.

Among the sections of the present law that have been revised by the department and which are now being passed upon by the board, one is that creating the board of six commissioners, the revision calling for two commissioners from the county of Hawaii, one from Maui and one from Kauai. The succeeding sections relating to those eligible and also the number constituting a quorum have been slightly changed.

The section defining private schools is revised and also that regulating their establishment. The latter revised section now reads: "Any person desiring to establish a private school within the Territory shall make an application in writing to the department stating name, proposed location and course of instruction."

Another section makes the English language the basis of instruction in all schools and all schools where it is not used will not be considered as either public or private schools and attendance at them shall not be considered attendance at school in compliance with law.

New Sections.

Among the more important new sections introduced is one providing for truancy officers in the person of the deputy sheriff or any officer under him that he may designate. The new section says: "It shall be the duty of each deputy sheriff to visit each public school within the county district of which he is deputy sheriff, to ascertain from the teacher or other officer or agent of the department of public instruction in charge thereof what children, if any, of school age persist in absenting themselves from such school."

Upon complaint made to any deputy sheriff by any teacher or other officer or agent of the department of public instruction that any child of a school age has persisted in absenting himself from any school located within the county district of which he is deputy sheriff, such deputy sheriff shall immediately immediately ascertain the whereabouts of such child and the cause of his absence from school.

A number of other new sections have been introduced, but most of these are laws passed by the various legislatures which affect schools, but which are not now incorporated in the school laws as a body.

Salary Schedule.

The regulations, as at present revised, contain the schedules for the teachers' and principals' salaries, they being as follows for teachers:

Year of Service—	Per Year.	Per Month.
First.....	$480.00	$40.00
Second.....	540.00	45.00
Third.....	600.00	50.00
Fourth.....	720.00	60.00
Fifth.....	780.00	65.00
Sixth.....	840.00	70.00
Seventh.....	900.00	75.00
Eighth.....	1000.00	83.33

Other sections provide that "Substitute teachers taking the place of teachers in the elementary schools shall be paid at the rate of $2 a day. Substitute teachers in high and normal schools shall be paid at the rate of $3.50."

"Teachers obtaining normal diplomas will be allowed three years' experience, beginning at $60 a month and receiving their maximum salary in seven years."

"Teachers having completed the two years collegiate course in the normal school shall begin at $65 a month, receiving the maximum salary in five years."

The principals' salaries have been set as follows:

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th	10th
Principals with—	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year	Year
